

Call for Applications

Berlin Seminar: Truth, Justice & Remembrance May 13-26, 2018

The Robert Bosch Stiftung is pleased to announce its annual call for applications of this year's Berlin Seminar: Truth, Justice & Remembrance.

The two-week seminar offers participants the chance to gain insights into approaches, methods and current challenges of coming to terms with Germany's violent past. We will equip participants with knowledge, tools and skills necessary to facilitate meaningful progress on truth, justice and remembrance in their respective societies. The Berlin Seminar will bring together 25 international actors, who are professionally engaged in work on remembrance, politics of memory and documentation and truth-finding during and in the aftermath of conflicts.

The Berlin Seminar is a program targeted at experts in the field and offering a wide array of different components:

- Knowledge & Critical Analysis
- Methods of Dealing with the Past
- Transfer & Exchange Best Practice
- Skills & Strategies
- Tackle Individual Challenges

We are looking for candidates that meet the following criteria:

- You are a mid-career and senior staff working for civil society organizations, government bodies and media institutions with relevant work experience in the field of truth, justice & remembrance.
- You have very good English skills enabling you to participate in group discussions and to write a short reflection paper.
- You are open to a comparative and participatory learning experience.
- Neither German language skills nor prior knowledge about Germany are required

Robert Bosch Stiftung invites interested candidates to submit their application by February 26, 2018. Robert Bosch Stiftung will cover travel costs to and from Berlin, accommodation and meals and other related costs for local travel during the entirety of the program.
