

The Robert Bosch Stiftung is one of the major foundations in Germany associated with a private company. The foundation exclusively and directly serves charitable purposes.

Within our “Global Issues” support area, we are looking for a

Senior Expert for the topic “Climate Change” with a focus on land use (full-time) to start on May 1, 2022.

Today, peaceful coexistence depends on finding answers to current global questions. Since 2020, climate change has been one of the topics of the Robert Bosch Stiftung's international work. We advocate a just transformation and a fundamental paradigm shift in land use based on holistic solutions that achieve climate goals, safeguard biodiversity, reduce inequality, and strengthen resilience. We address both synergies and trade-offs and foster the social acceptance of this challenging transition. Our geographic focus is on Europe and sub-Saharan Africa.

The role:

- Further development of the foundation's "Climate Change" strategy incl. monitoring and evaluation, especially in the European context
- Initiation, implementation and managing of the foundation's participation in international alliances and multilateral forums
- Leading on and ensuring the conceptual, operational, and financial management as well as impact-focused implementation of projects
- Representing the foundation's activities on climate change both internally and publicly
- Further development of professional networks and competencies within the team
- Strategic and conceptual advice to the Program Director
- Supporting the foundation's public and political communication on the topic of climate change

The requirements:

- Relevant academic background and track record of academic publications
- Several years of internationally-focused professional experience related to climate change and land use issues
- Excellent understanding and knowledge of relevant international discourses on climate policy and land use, especially in the EU context
- Excellent professional and political networks at European and international level
- Experience in strategy development and project management
- Enjoy teamwork and co-creative processes
- Extensive international experience living and working abroad
- Professional fluency in German and English
- High level of writing skills and stylistic confidence as well as media competence
- Willingness to travel for work

Our offer:

If you are performance-focused, highly committed, and have the drive to dedicate yourself to this role, we offer you a challenging and varied position within a motivated team. We offer a generous package including additional benefits and support you with extensive opportunities for future training.

The position is initially limited to two years. We endeavor to make the role permanent at the end of the two-year period. The job can be based in either Berlin or Stuttgart.

Interested?

Please submit your application by 31 of January 2022 using our Online Application Portal. For data protection reasons, we ask that you only apply via the Application Portal.

Please include the following documents in your application:

- Cover letter
- Resumé
- Certificate of your highest school-leaving qualification (e.g. high school diploma)
- Certificate(s) of training and university degree
- Certificates/supporting documents of previous professional activities

For further information on our work, please visit our website: www.bosch-stiftung.de/en.

We look forward to receiving your application!

Contact

Robert Bosch Stiftung GmbH
Josefina Franco-Pérez
Director
Human Resources
Heidehofstr. 31
70184 Stuttgart
Germany
Tel: + 49 (0) 711/460 84-680 karriere@bosch-stiftung.de www.bosch-stiftung.de/karriere